

7. you and me and the moon

fawm 2021

the sky is dark – this time of year – this time of night – round here... and things are dark – in the bigger picture – in the tale of man people are crazy – times are strange... remembering before all this change... wondering what's to come – wondering how it all began we hoped – it'd be alright... we kept our bubble buttoned up tight... like the professor and maryanne down by the lagoon and the winter is long and cold... so many stories put on hold... but there's still you and me and the moon all the stars – out in space – all the lifetimes it takes light to reach this place... and this lifetime – is the only time we'll get so whatever these days don't bring – we can fill our days with different things always changing – but this story's not over yet we made it through – though some are gone... we keep on keepin' on...

and they say – the worst – will all – be over soon
and i can always walk outside... under the stars on any old night...
as long as there's still you and me and the moon

we made it through – though some are gone... we keep on keepin' on...
and they say – the worst – will all – be over soon
and i can always walk outside... under the stars on any old night...
as long as there's still you and me and the moon

you and me and that mysterious moon

you and me and that magical

you and me and that marvellous moon

you and me

and that

mystical moon

just as long as there's you and me and the moon
