

small town heart

can you ... find your way into town ?
i know all the side roads you'll go down...
don't know what the roadsigns say...
can you find your way?

can you use the clues i sent ?
can you roll in my environment ?

can you ... feel the life on these streets?
all the other kids i used to meet all grown up now and moved away what do your instincts say?

can you recognize
what's behind my blue eyes?

can you ... feel the ghosts of what's gone down rolling down out from the mountains west of town ?
there's a bit of history here...
do you hear the whispers in your ear?

can you start to see
the long ago years here that added up to me?

can you ... feel all the things that started here?
feel the way the small town changes with the years?
can you feel the thirsty desert rains?
feel the small town blood flowing in my veins?

can you finally start
to feel the beat of my small town heart.

to feel the beat of my small town heart.

the beat of my small town heart.
