randa göffel

randa göffel is flying across the sea time to shake her wings out and fly free changing her location, reclaiming her history randa göffel is flying across the sea all the things we need in life... it just depends all the things we really need... life usually sends she's all shined up and ready to go, sharpened on both ends which things we need in life... it just depends the longer the journey, the bigger the divide the longer the voyage home from the other side the lifestyles may be different, but some of the same tools can be applied the longer the journey, the bigger it opens wide randa göffel is flying across the sea and i'm sending her off with all the love in me i'll dream a couple dreams for her, about how it's all gonna be randa göffel is flying across the sea
