

*should be vaguer?driving on 4

this is the way i always play it...

on NM state road 4road i been on so many times before*from the 502 to the Zia Pueblo*from my backyard to San Ysidro*there's nothing quite the same as*going over the mountains through the Jemez*and every time there's things i never saw before*on NM state road 4*on NM state road 4*i see you in the shadows of every corner*the shadows and light we used to know*the hairpin turns up off the Pajarito Plateau*never sang words just to upset you*don't think i miss you but i can't forget you*it's San Antonio Springs i'm looking for*on NM state road 4*on NM state road four*you looked so fine hiking up to the East Forks*past the caldera, always drive another mile*you'd'a looked so fine walking down the aisle*oh the Jemez River valley walls*guess i missed the turn to Jemez Falls*always thinking that we'd have one more*drive on NM state road four*on NM state road four*a lot of counting miles and keeping score*same old road rolls through eternity*you were on the fast road to maternity*smell the red rocks as she descends out of the green*Vista Linda and the Spanish Queen*turn off the headlights when the long nights are no more*on NM state road four